

CUTTING INTO UTAH JOBBERS

Los Angeles Wholesalers Are Invading Territory Now
Held by Salt Lake.

PLANNING BIG CAMPAIGN HAVE MEN IN FIELD AND WILL ADVERTISE.

Los Angeles jobbers are talking of invading Salt Lake territory. The jobbers' association of that city has been considering the matter and has come to the conclusion that there is a great field for their houses north of Salt Lake. Several Los Angeles houses have put men into this territory, and it was stated that more are going to do so. The association is about to take steps in the way of advertising and to call attention to the advantages of the city of the angels as a jobbing center.

Already, at their request, the Salt Lake route has been put on a new service for through freight from Los Angeles to Salt Lake. Utah common points and all points beyond Salt Lake and Ogden. A merchandise car is attached to the through freight leaving Los Angeles Monday, Wednesday and Friday. On this there is no stop for unloading until Salt Lake is reached. The schedule is sixty hours, which will in no case exceed seventy-two hours.

MAY SELL SUGAR TO DEALERS

Planters' Concern Plans to Cut Out the Middlemen in This Territory.

Advices received by a wholesale grocery firm from the coast serve to increase the present uncertainty in the state of the sugar market. Weeks ago what was supposed to be the beginning of a sugar war was inaugurated between the leading rival firms, the Spreckels and the Planters' organizations. The company has dropped nearly a dollar without warning. Since then nothing has been done, though more rate cutting was expected.

Nearly all the local jobbers buy from the Spreckels concern, and the rival company has been able to get little or no business in this territory. The company has made efforts to reduce the jobbers from their allegiance to the other concern, but without effect. Now the company has on the point of taking active steps to invade the territory and begin a war to the knife by selling direct to the retail dealer at such prices that the middlemen will be practically shut out of any business in this article. Few of the jobbers have any large stocks on hand and are looking for some developments in the situation this week.

S. D. Evans,
Undertaker and embalmer, removed to new location, 48 South State street.

RUN ON SLAPJACKS.

Twenty-six Y. M. C. A. Boys Eat
200 for Breakfast.

Twenty-six Y. M. C. A. boys, who are in camp at Bountiful, ate 200 pancakes for breakfast this morning. The bill of fare for yesterday was: Breakfast—Eggs—See, shredded wheat, pancakes, corned beef, dinner—Potatoes, bread, corned beef and milk. The boys were made on bread and milk.

The boys were exceptionally hungry in the morning, and the twenty-six who are in camp ate 200 pancakes, which took two hours to make. The only trouble was that the boys had no time to eat, and there are many unfortunates in this line. As yet there are no cases of homesickness. Yesterday a track meet was scheduled between the boys of the camp and the boys from Canyon Creek, and a baseball game between the same aggregations.

HOTEL LEMINGTON, DENVER.

The attention of visiting Elks and Utah people in general is directed to this new and absolutely modern rooming apartment conducted by Mrs. Florence L. Williamson, formerly of Salt Lake. It is situated on the corner of Sixteenth and Glenarm, in the very heart of Denver. Contains 44 rooms, newly furnished, possessing every facility for convenience and comfort. Prices $1.00 and $1.50 per day.

Salt Lake News company will remove in a few days two doors south of Keith-O'Brien's.

SPELLING BEE PLANNED.

Will Be Held at Calder's Next Wednesday.

A feature of the Pioneer stake outing to children on Wednesday next is an old-time spelling match, conducted on the lines characteristic of school work in early days. Already considerable interest has been stirred and many are brushing up on their orthography in the hope of running off with the first prize. The excursion is under the auspices of the Mutual Improvement association, and the programme includes a baseball game between the Mutes and Sunday school workers, horse races, boat races and bowling contests, all for prizes.

The Forest Dale and Farmers' ward choirs were at the party last night, while today the Granite stake Sunday schools will be there.

Why not put Your Savings at work for you
?

We will pay 4 per cent on your Savings and compound it every six months.

Salt Lake
Security & Trust
Co.

IN OUR OWN BUILDING,
32-34 Main Street.

RALEIGH AND BLACK AT OUTS

Councilman Tries to Deprive Street Supervisor of a Few Prerogatives.

COUNCIL TURNS HIM DOWN MAYOR APPOINTS THREE LI- BRARY COMMISSIONERS.

Long-standing hostility between Councilman T. R. Black and Street Supervisor J. T. Raleigh, both "American" party men, broke out in the city council last night, when Mr. Black introduced a resolution forbidding any city employee to contract any improvement work of any kind without the sanction of the council.

The resolution, while general in its terms, was aimed at the work of the street department in causing Second West street to be covered with limerock and various other street improvements, which Mr. Raleigh is causing to be made.

There was quite an animated discussion of the matter, and Councilman A. R. Carter, chairman of the street committee, informed broadly that Mr. Black was actuated by personal spite. This Mr. Black denied. The council then voted, 10 to 4, to reject the resolution. A motion by Mr. Mulvey that the resolution be referred to the street committee, with the street supervisor associated therewith, was adopted by a practically unanimous vote.

New Library Commissioners.

Mayor Thompson sent to the council the appointment of Dr. J. E. Scallan, Mrs. S. M. Barlow and Joseph M. Cohen as library commissioners for terms of three years. Mrs. Cohen was reappointed and Mrs. Barlow and Mrs. H. J. Hayward. The council confirmed the appointments unanimously.

Fire Chief C. T. Vail appointed A. Buckingham a member of the fire department to fill a vacancy and the council confirmed the appointment. Chief of Police George A. Sheets appointed M. I. Morris to serve as special policeman without pay, at the request of City Treasurer F. A. Swenson, and the appointment was confirmed.

Votes Circus License.

Mayor Thompson sent in a message vetoing the action of the council granting a license to the circus which comes here in August. The mayor said that he understood the special license had been granted under the impression that the minimum regular license was $400, whereas it was $200. The latter figure, the mayor said, he regarded as being reasonable. The veto was sustained unanimously.

The Alcatraz (Barber) Paving company, which has a pending suit against the city for $7,500 balance alleged to be due for the paving of Second and Third South streets, sent a communication to the council, promising the suit for the late principal, deducting interest and costs. The communication was referred to the municipal committee, with the city attorney and city engineer associated.

Street Supervisor Raleigh asked that the council purchase two graders at a cost of $300 for use in his department. Councilman Black objected to immediate action, and the request was referred to the street committee.

Action on the wide-rim ordinance was postponed one week, and the street committee was instructed to confer with implement dealers and get as much information as possible in the meantime.

The council directed the street supervisor to construct a road over the channel of City creek from State to Canyon road at a cost not to exceed $25.

WOMEN MAKE COMPLAINTS

Object to Saltair Company's Treatment of Its Patrons in Many Particulars.

Women who have visited Saltair on rush days recently complain almost universally at the treatment to which they have been subjected by the company. Several have asked the Herald to call attention to the conditions. One complaint is that there is no decent waiting room at the Salt Lake end, and they have to stand in the hot sun while waiting for the train.

Another complaint is that there is always a wide arrangement for the cars at the Saltair end of the line, and that no attempt apparently is made by the company to keep rowdies out of the cars. Saturday night a number of women who returned on the last train were forced to ride in a closed car which was not lighted, and the conductors of the cars were altogether indecent, and that no employee of the company was in sight to preserve the proprieties.

"The company treats its patrons like cattle," declared one indignant woman.

MAY NOW PRACTICE.

Large Number Successfully Pass
Medical Board Examinations.

The examinations which have been held during the past few days by the State Board of Medical Examiners were concluded yesterday. The successful candidates were:

Medicine and Surgery—H. J. Sears, A. B. Irvine, F. O. Reynolds, H. C. Holbrook, George D. Schramm, R. H. Dunn, D. E. Hincley, M. S. Reay, L. F. Rich, H. E. Robinson, E. Cutler, P. R. Merrill, L. K. Humphrey, G. W. Clark, S. Chalk, H. J. Murphy, G. G. Richards, J. H. Hubbard, J. E. Morrell, T. N. Van Natta, E. J. Oxford.

Obstetrics—A. F. Knight, Christina Larsen, Lella B. Clark, Joanna Warr, Abdel Black, Zina Robinson, N. G. Forman, Mary A. F. White.

NEW ELECTION DISTRICT.

County Commissioners Organize One at Garfield.

The county commissioners yesterday formed a new election district at Garfield. The number of the new district is 96.

The commissioners awarded to the Inter-Mountain Electric company the contract for installing a pump at the intersection of Twelfth South street and the city canal. The price is a little more than $500.

Card of Thanks.

H. B. Cole desires to express his thanks and appreciation of the kindness of neighbors and friends to him and wife during the latter's illness and death, also those who sent flowers.

FILES ON WATER.

J. M. Lauritzen of Richfield has filed with the state engineer an application for water for irrigation purposes yesterday. It will be taken from the Cottonwood stream in Sevier county, and enough is asked to water twenty acres.

Good office vacant, Scott bldg., $10.00.

Mount's Pickles are palate pleasers of unsurpassable purity and quality. So says the groceryman.

LITTLE BOY IS DROWNED IN POOL

Henry Earl Wilkinson, 11 Years
Old, Wades in Deep
Pool and Sinks.

WAS UNABLE TO SWIM

PLAYMATES RUN PAST AID TO FIND SOME ONE THEY KNEW.

Henry Earl Wilkinson, the 11-year-old son of Nicholas Wilkinson, a coach-counter in the Rio Grande yards, was drowned yesterday afternoon in a pool just west of the Jordan river.

Henry, with Arthur Richards and Alban Nelson, boys about his age, left home at 16 South Sixth West shortly after eating his dinner yesterday. The boys said they were going to the pool. About 4 o'clock Arthur Richards and Alban Nelson reached Sixth West street breathless and excited. They met Thomas Brown, a resident of the neighborhood, and told him that Henry was drowning. The boys had come five blocks.

Mr. Brown ran down First South street to the pool across the river. He had no difficulty in finding the lifeless body of the little fellow. The body was naked. The police station and the boy's parents were notified of the accident. The patrol wagon was sent to the scene and the body taken home.

No date has been set for the hearing of Doris Crooley, who is being held in the city jail charged with larceny. While in the employ of Mrs. W. B. Throckmorton of 76 R street and Mrs. Hugh Ward of 864 Lincoln avenue, the girl stole jewelry worth several hundred dollars.

Neither Mrs. Ward nor Mrs. Throckmorton have received their property, and do not know when they will. The police have told them that the goods will be needed as evidence when the trial comes up. Neither have been told that any date has been set for the trial. Inquiry shows that no date has been set, and indications make the police appear desirous of having the affair adjusted without carrying it to court.

Doris Crooley took two diamond rings from Mrs. Ward. When Mrs. Ward identified the rings at the police station she was told that the easiest way to recover them was by paying the pawnbroker $25, the sum he had advanced Miss Crooley on the rings. Detective George Chase volunteered this cheering information. Chief of Police Sheets made a similar suggestion to Mrs. Throckmorton. She recovered a gold watch and ring. Miss Crooley received $14 upon the watch and $3.50 upon the ring.

Slips Into Pool.

The little fellows who were with the dead boy say he undressed to wade around in the water. He could not swim and, slipping into a hole where the water was over his head he was unable to get to shore, although it was but a few feet away. The boys saw him slip and, less playmate struggling in the water, and becoming frightened ran from the pool. The boys did not know where the Jordan river near the Saltair railroad tracks to Sixth West street. In their fright they started out for some one they knew. The Oregon Short Line round-house and a power-house are near the pool but the boys ran past these. An inquest was not thought necessary. The funeral will be held at the family residence at 16 South Sixth West tomorrow afternoon.

Slips Into Pool.

The little fellows who were with the dead boy say he undressed to wade around in the water. He could not swim and, slipping into a hole where the water was over his head he was unable to get to shore, although it was but a few feet away. The boys saw him slip and, less playmate struggling in the water, and becoming frightened ran from the pool. The boys did not know where the Jordan river near the Saltair railroad tracks to Sixth West street. In their fright they started out for some one they knew. The Oregon Short Line round-house and a power-house are near the pool but the boys ran past these. An inquest was not thought necessary. The funeral will be held at the family residence at 16 South Sixth West tomorrow afternoon.

CITY MAY CANCEL CONTRACT

Attorney General Breeden Renders
Opinion in the State Prison
Water Controversy.

Attorney General M. A. Breeden rendered an opinion yesterday that the city has the right to cancel its contract to furnish water to the state prison at any time, after giving the prison notice to that effect. The opinion enables the city to secure a water supply elsewhere. To shut the water off without giving a reasonable time, Major Breeden holds, would be illegal, and could be prevented by injunction proceedings.

If it can be shown, the opinion holds, that the state cannot secure a water supply elsewhere except at great expense, a suit in condemnation would lie, and the courts could be called upon to fix a reasonable compensation for the same.

A few weeks ago the city council notified the prison authorities that it would cancel its contract within sixty days. The contract provides that the prison shall pay the city $100 a year for its water, but the city authorities contend that the prison has been using an inordinate amount of water.

Capitalists Are Coming

Colborn Says They Will Investigate
Conditions in Salt Lake
Real Estate.

E. F. Colborn returned yesterday from a business trip to New York. He says that arrangements for the commencement of work on the improvement of Popper-ton Place, as outlined some time ago, are now almost complete.

Within a few days Mr. Colborn expects two men from New York who will look over the property and into real estate conditions in Salt Lake generally. It is not likely that actual work on the contemplated improvements, which include the laying of a sewer, will be begun until the hot weather is over, but by that time all will be in readiness.

While on the way home from the east Mr. Colborn attended the bankers' convention at Glenwood Springs, Colo.

NO SCIENCE FOR BINGLEY

Vigilant Minion of the Law Arrests
Egg Collectors and They Are Fined.

Respect for science is not part of the mental make-up of the redoubtable deputy game warden, "Bill" Bingley. Sunday "Bill" found A. O. Treganza, the architect, and his father gathering birds' eggs in the Black Slough. When the case was placed under arrest. Their explanation that they were gathering them for the American ornithological society availed nothing, and escaped going to jail only by agreeing to appear before Justice Dana T. Smith yesterday.

They promptly appeared, and Justice Smith fined them $10 each which they paid. They were gathering the eggs for R. E. Price of Grand Park, Ill., who is a prominent member of the Ornithological union.

Snake Killed on Street

Reptile Five Feet Long Found in the Heart of the City.

Snakes are not common about the streets of Salt Lake but Isaac A. Hancock of Hancock Bros., killed a beauty in front of his store, 51 Richards street, yesterday afternoon.

The reptile was crawling on the street and seemed somewhat sluggish in its movements. It was about five feet long and weighed over seven pounds. The skin was pretty marked.

It was what is known as a "Blow" snake and is not dangerous.

WILL RESIDE HERE.

Wyoming Man Purchases Former Home of Rev. George Bailey.

Otto Larsen, a Wyoming sheep man, will take up his residence permanently in Salt Lake. He has purchased through the Capital Real Estate & Investment company the modern brick house at 257 North First West street, formerly owned by Rev. George Bailey, a former resident of Utah, but now of Washington, D. C. The price paid was $3,000.

DIAMOND COAL.

Sold only by Citizens' Coal company.
Removed to 153 S. Main. Phone 43.

POWELL STILL HOLD JEWELRY

Tell Owners They Want It as Evidence, but Thief's Hearing Is Delayed.

WOMEN ARE MISQUOTED

CHILD TAKEN FROM HOME

POVERTY CAUSES SIGN "FOR SALE, A BABY."

FOR SALE, A BABY.

The business man hurrying to work stopped to read this sign. So did the society woman hurrying to a pink tea. The sign was tacked on the front of a humble four-room house at 443 Sixth avenue, East Waterloo. The business man and society woman were joined by others. Men and women and children stood in front of the house. Many read and went their way smiling, thinking the sign a prank. Many went their way wondering what it meant. A few—and they were women with a woman's curiosity—went inside to find out what the startling sign meant.

They found out it meant just what it said, that a baby was for sale. Not a rare baby, not a little pig, not a kitten or pup, but real, live, mite of human being, Mrs. Mueller, the occupant of the home, printed the sign and tacked it outside. The home, if it could be called a home, partially apologized for the sign. No furniture was in any of the four dirty little rooms. There is no stove, and an empty cupboard makes the absence of a stove not a thing for wonder.

Mrs. Mueller sat in one of the rooms Monday night when visitors called—some to buy the baby—and announced that the baby could not be bought for a cent less than $125.

The conversation was carried on in subdued tones on account of four half-naked tots who rolled and tossed on a pile of rags in the corner. The snores of the father could be heard through a door. The door shut into a closet where Mueller's stretched out. Mrs. Mueller's face pictured despair. The bare house, the four little tots on the pile of rags and the snores from the closet explained the look of hunger, want and utter despair in the woman's face.

"Yes, I have a baby for sale," answered Mrs. Mueller composedly. "I want to be offered $60 for it, but I won't accept a cent less than $125. You see, it is my sister's girl. It is 7 months old. My sister died in Wyoming long ago, and when we came to Salt Lake we brought her child with us. I don't know where the child may be dead. I have been in the house—her home—since she died. In there asleep. These four children are mine. I've taken care of them. I've been a mother. I've taken care of them. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

POWELL STILL HOLD JEWELRY

Tell Owners They Want It as Evidence, but Thief's Hearing Is Delayed.

WOMEN ARE MISQUOTED

CHILD TAKEN FROM HOME

POVERTY CAUSES SIGN "FOR SALE, A BABY."

FOR SALE, A BABY.

The business man hurrying to work stopped to read this sign. So did the society woman hurrying to a pink tea. The sign was tacked on the front of a humble four-room house at 443 Sixth avenue, East Waterloo. The business man and society woman were joined by others. Men and women and children stood in front of the house. Many read and went their way smiling, thinking the sign a prank. Many went their way wondering what it meant. A few—and they were women with a woman's curiosity—went inside to find out what the startling sign meant.

They found out it meant just what it said, that a baby was for sale. Not a rare baby, not a little pig, not a kitten or pup, but real, live, mite of human being, Mrs. Mueller, the occupant of the home, printed the sign and tacked it outside. The home, if it could be called a home, partially apologized for the sign. No furniture was in any of the four dirty little rooms. There is no stove, and an empty cupboard makes the absence of a stove not a thing for wonder.

Mrs. Mueller sat in one of the rooms Monday night when visitors called—some to buy the baby—and announced that the baby could not be bought for a cent less than $125.

The conversation was carried on in subdued tones on account of four half-naked tots who rolled and tossed on a pile of rags in the corner. The snores of the father could be heard through a door. The door shut into a closet where Mueller's stretched out. Mrs. Mueller's face pictured despair. The bare house, the four little tots on the pile of rags and the snores from the closet explained the look of hunger, want and utter despair in the woman's face.

"Yes, I have a baby for sale," answered Mrs. Mueller composedly. "I want to be offered $60 for it, but I won't accept a cent less than $125. You see, it is my sister's girl. It is 7 months old. My sister died in Wyoming long ago, and when we came to Salt Lake we brought her child with us. I don't know where the child may be dead. I have been in the house—her home—since she died. In there asleep. These four children are mine. I've taken care of them. I've been a mother. I've taken care of them. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some time. His face was wrapped in a rag which was at one time an infant's gown. The baby had no hair, his eyes were closed, his little hands and naked feet were dirty, and its whole little body showed the need of water and soap.

Stops During Inspection.

The baby was asleep and remained asleep while the visitors passed it among them for inspection. "Is your price a little high for this baby?" asked one of the party glancing at the little mite of humanity. "I've taken care of it for several months," answered Mrs. Mueller. "I have not been able to do the best by it because we have had nothing. We have had no food half the time. During the days I have gone out and worked to get the money. I've taken care of it. I've been a mother. I've taken care of it. When she returned she had in her arms a tiny bundle. Unfolding the blanket wrapped around his bundle the visitors discovered an infant who had been in the house for some